DESCRIPTION

The Japanese Wabi-sabi designs have taken the world by storm in recent years, especially in Europe, because their simple finishes are perfect for Nordic interiors in light tones. Although the Japanese design is simple, it does not forget its design sense. So, the Japanese designs you see are always artistic ornaments. The same goes for this Wabi-Sabi Irregular Planet pendant lamp. The illogical shape and special materials form this somewhat postmodern creation. It looks like an exploding planet. Without conspicuous finishes, the gray or black color can better highlight the texture on its surface, setting off its texture. You might think of it as a cement chandelier, but this is made of lightweight resin and polystyrene material, and even a large size won't be very heavy. Therefore, you don't have to worry about any safety issues hanging from the ceiling.
